This year to get my kids ready for finding the theme in poetry, I finally decided to make a notes sheet of all things I do when I find the theme. I focused on 6 steps: looking at the title, paraphrasing when we can, thinking about connotations, author's attitude and feelings, shifts in mood and tone, and finally checking out the title again.

Poetry is a way of rescuing the world from oblivion by the practice of attention. It is our attention that honors and gives value to living things, that gives them their proper name and particularity; that retrieves them from the obscurity of the general. Poems that galvanize my attention shake me awake.
