Abarat

Abarat (2002) is a fantasy novel written and illustrated by Clive Barker, the first in Barker's The Books of Abarat series. It is aimed primarily at young adults. The eponymous Abarat is a fictional archipelago which is the setting for the majority of the story.

Abarat - Wikipedia

Abarat is Clive Barker's version of Alice in Wonderland. A little girl follows a strange man to a new world and encounters crazy characters while learning how to grow up. I appreciated the imaginative characters and I liked the plucky main character. Unfortunately, the story sometimes felt a little flat.

Abarat by Clive Barker is the first book of the Abarat. This is a huge place where every Island is a different hour of the day. In the boring town of Chickentown, USA, Candy Quackenbush is dealing with a personal struggle as to where her future may lead and with an uncanny encounter with a character called John Mischief, she finds herself in ...

Abarat by Clive Barker - Goodreads

The Abarat Series In 1995 Clive began painting huge dream-images which were wholly unlike his previous paintings. He began to think of them as the illustrations for a collection of 25 tales; a 'Book of Hours' which would describe all the emotions of a day, hour by hour (with an extra, mystical 25th hour).
