Diamana White Board is a low torque, stiff tip, stiff mid-section and softer butt section. The White Board provides the penetrating ball flight similar to the Blue Board. This shaft is definitely geared for the stronger player looking for good control and slightly higher ball flight than the Blue Board.

This simply looks to be the next generation of the OEM Diamana line (I am sure more details will emerge at the PGA Show). The 3rd gen Diamana +Plus Ltd just stuck around longer due to the tour usage of the D+ and the popularity of the Tensei CK line which ended up as the OEM stock offering for many new launches over the past couple of years.
