And, more recently, the church in China blossomed during the twentieth century despite tremendous persecution. Unlike the lazy and complacent Christianity that develops in "safe" countries, persecution fosters a robust Christianity, confident of its faith and bold in its proclamation. The church thrives under persecution.

The first documented case of imperially supervised persecution of Christians in the Roman Empire begins with Nero (54-68). In 64 AD, a great fire broke out in Rome, destroying portions of the city and impoverishing the Roman population. Some people suspected that Nero himself was the arsonist, as Suetonius reported, claiming that he played the lyre and sang the 'Sack of Ilium' during the fires.
