WHAT IS the guide number at ISO 100 for Nikon SB910 ...

The Guide Number (GN) is as much about the reflector coverage angle as about the power level.. If the GN of one flash is specified as GN 180, but its narrow zoom coverage angle is concentrating all the power to only illuminate a small bright spot on the wall, and another flash specifies GN 90, but its wide reflector is illuminating the entire room, then we don't know much about the difference.

Compare Power Rating of Camera Flashes with Guide Numbers

If any question, you can determine an accurate guide number yourself by knowing what works for your flash. $GN = f/Number \times distance$. Use the numbers which work to give a correct exposure at a measured distance and manual flash power. And try to use f/4, f/8 or f/16 for that, slightly more accurate, because the other intermediate values are ...

Nikon SB-910 Review - Ken Rockwell

Throughout most of the world where the metric system is observed, guide numbers are expressed as a unitless numeric value like 34, even though they are technically a composite unit of measure that is a two-factor product: f-number·meters.As such, guide numbers can be reduced either to distance in meters or to f-stops depending on how one uses the guide number in a calculation.
